Discover the new dimension of honey consumption with these natural HoneyPuffs. Huneybee is a family-owned business reimagining traditional honey consumption. We address a fundamental market challenge that has long limited the use of honey: its stickiness and difficulty in portability. We've uniquely transformed honey into a light yet solid form, allowing you to take nature's golden treasure with you wherever you go. We are committed to providing a healthy alternative amongst highly processed sweets. Thanks to our gentle process, our product preserves the valuable enzymes and vitamins found in acacia honey, so its consumption not only provides enjoyment but also naturally supports your body. We don't use any artificial additives, added sugars, or preservatives during production. It's just honey, as nature intended it; we only gave it a new form. Curious how to consume it? HoneyPuffs are perfect on their own, but they can be a healthy snack for kids or an ideal choice for adults who crave a quick and delicious energy boost. You can liven up your breakfast with it, and it can even be a special flavoring for lukewarm drinks. Cranberry: Flavored with dried, ground cranberry pieces. The price listed includes a label with a unique label for orders over 50 pieces. For orders under 50 pieces, please request a unique price for the label.
