The Urban Vitamin Stanford powerbank is the pinnacle of advanced charging technology, offering unparalleled performance for those who demand the best. With a robust 20,000 mAh capacity, the Stanford supports an incredible 165W mega-fast charging, ensuring your devices, including multiple laptops and MacBooks, are powered up simultaneously and at lightning speed. Equipped with three output options: —two USB-C and one USB-A—the Stanford is designed for maximum versatility. It also features a unique integrated 70cm retractable USB-C fast 100W cable reducing the need to carry extra accessories. The high-quality TFT colour display provides real-time updates on charging speed and device status, keeping you fully informed during every charge. Built with a durable aluminium housing, the Stanford delivers a premium look and feel while maintaining a lightweight and portable design. Urban Vitamin products are made without PVC and are packed in plastic-reduced packaging.
